

BoardEffect Releases Phone App

Press Release

BoardEffect Expands Focus on Mobility

Philadelphia PA – December 20, 2016

BoardEffect, the leading board management software solution provider for non-profit and mission-based organizations worldwide, announces the availability of its board management software on iOS and Android phones.

“The phone is an important connector device. Board members are constantly on the go and may not have their tablet accessible at all times,” commented Matt Bryan, BoardEffect’s Product Owner. The new phone app is a companion to the BoardEffect tablet applications and web platform currently available for BoardEffect clients; it enables board directors to conveniently manage meeting logistics and access contact information anywhere, anytime and fulfill their responsibilities of elevating organizational performance. “Ease of use and mobility are critical drivers of the development of our board management platform,” said Todd Gibby, BoardEffect’s Chief Executive Officer. “The phone app represents our commitment to leveraging mobility for increased connectivity and collaboration among boards of directors.”

More than 2,500 organizations and over 120,000 users depend on BoardEffect to manage board related information online and advance the mission-critical work of their boards.
